

Series: Seasons in the Psalms, Reflections on God and the Significance of the Soul

Passage: Psalm 105

Title: Rejoicing in God's Faithfulness

Speaker: Pastor JC Cooper 10/19/2025

Discussion Starter –What long term promises has God given to you? What “down payments” or incremental fulfillments have you seen? What is your story, (either personally, as a family, or as a community of believers), that you can recount, similarly to David, that confirms God has been faithful in the past and can be trusted to complete His good work in you?

Read Psalm 105:1-15, (1 Chronicles 15:8-22)

1. What event marks the occasion for this Psalm? How significant is the event to David and the nation?
2. What action words, (verbs) does David implore the people to undertake in the first 6 verses?
 - a. How does proactive engagement with God and declaration of His works build our faith in God's promises?
3. What promise does David recall that is celebrated in this psalm (verses 7-15)? When was the promise given? (Genesis 12, 15, and 17)? How is it fulfilled (even partially) at this time?
 - b. What promises has God given to you that are yet future? What intermediate confirmations have you received that confirm and strengthen your faith in His promises?

Read Psalm 105:16-36

4. How is God's faithfulness to His promise described in verses 16-25?
 - c. Where can you find confidence God's faithfulness to His plan during times when He is seemingly absent?
5. After 400 years of silence, what steps does God take to free His people and prove Himself faithful to His promise?

Read Psalm 105:37-45

6. How does God lavishly fulfill His promise to His children as described in these verses? How have you experienced God's generous blessings?
7. How does recalling God's past deeds encourage us to confidence in our present situations?
 - d. How does knowing God's past faithfulness and generosity help us to consistently obey His statutes? How does each challenge present it's own challenge, regardless of God's past faithfulness?
